

The Lifecyle of a
Dragonfly
Coloring Pages
(Free Printable)

A detailed black and white line drawing of a dragonfly nymph in its aquatic habitat. The nymph is positioned in the lower half of the page, facing left. It has a long, segmented body, large eyes, and four pairs of legs. Its wings are partially spread, showing the intricate vein patterns. The nymph is surrounded by various aquatic plants, including tall reeds and smaller leafy plants. Several bubbles are scattered throughout the water, suggesting an underwater environment.
